

Program Description

Leadership/Empowerment

Lead From Within

In this encouraging, purposeful, and high-energy presentation, Jeff Davis shares powerful, easy-to-implement techniques and knowledge taken from his experience as a world traveler and team leader to specifically outline ways to become a better leader. Key areas covered include:

- What it really means to lead with integrity and courage
- The dos and don'ts of true leadership
- Ways to inspire others and be a great example while remaining humble
- How to lead teams, organizations, and groups when times and situations are especially tough
- Tricks, tools, and strategies to lead with continuous confidence

Jeff believes that leadership is not about having the most followers. It is about creating the most leaders, inspiring others, and acting with truth and integrity regardless of the circumstances. Employees want to be recognized, but even more than that employees want to learn how to best empower others. Jeff will motivate others to become leaders both in their job duties and across their organization, leading to positive results. This presentation will teach working professionals to continuously build and grow.

Value to Participants: Members will now possess the ability to implement top-notch leadership strategies in their organization. They will also be able to use these tips in their daily lives in a simple, easy-to-understand routine so that they may better lead and inspire others. As a result, they will begin to see increased cooperation across their company.
