

Program Description

Motivation

Push Through to Your Next Level

In this powerful and heartfelt presentation, Jeff Davis shares the mindset and strategies needed to successfully move past darkness, doubt, fear and, worry so you can finally reach your next career level. Taken from Jeff's experiences hitting rock bottom in his own life, he learned the hard way that there is always a possibility, a solution, and a way out, especially when that solution is not immediately apparent. Once you find the way out, your next level is closer than you think. Key areas covered include:

- Finding peace within when everything inside you is screaming with anxiety and doubt
- Learning how to value your own opinion over other's opinions while remaining respectful and friendly
- Tips and strategies to use when &!%* hits the fan and it feels like there is no way out
- Ways to activate higher levels of personal power, discipline, conviction, and persistence
- Methods to move past anxiety and depression and into a life of possibility

Jeff knows that happiness is a choice, something that is not dependent on others. This is a speech in which he conveys incredible levels of passion, purpose, and potential confidence to his audience members, helping them handle anything life may throw their way.

Value to Participants: Members will walk away with relevant strategies designed to help them move past the roadblocks, doubts, and frustrations they are experiencing in their lives. They will know how to redirect their energies by creating positive habits and implementing helpful techniques. With less stress and more happiness, members will take steps forward while handling setbacks in the right way.

Biography: Jeff Davis, Professional Speaker, Author, and Master Strategist – is Chairman and CEO of Jeff Davis International, based in Newtown, Connecticut. Jeff has had his fair share of ups and downs and he discusses some of these experiences in ways that benefit the audience. He relates to his audiences and shares meaningful insights. Through his programs Jeff teaches his clients that they are only a few steps away from finally moving into the light. Jeff is always learning more, having read many books on motivation and actively growing every single day. He is extremely excited to work with you and your group.