

Jeff Davis's Presentations

What you can expect from my presentations:

I will present a keynote speech that is filled with high energy, relevant content, engaging audience interaction, and an inspiring message. Regardless of the time of day that I speak, I will hold the audience's attention and give them something that will genuinely improve their lives. I talk on the same footing as the audience and make a real connection with them whether they're a group of business owners, mid to upper-level managers, government employees, teachers (including school faculty), support staff, hourly employees, job candidates, students, or athletes.

Style and approach:

I'm a hard-hitting and well-organized speaker, yet I also know when to pause and break to let the information I am sharing soak into the audience member's minds. I combine inspiring and motivating stories with relevant action-tips and strategies that can be applied in one's life immediately. My content is both intellectually stimulating and emotionally soothing.

Value, value, and more value:

You will not find better value in the marketplace. My fees are lower than many other speakers' fees yet I deliver top-notch content. I have read the books, learned from some of the top professionals in the world, and applied my knowledge so that I could become the expert in my speaking programs of choice. There is always a lot of laughter and "Mountaintop Moments" during my presentations.

What I make sure to do for...

the client/meeting planner:

Make him/her look good for finding a world-class speaker at such a great value. To make the meeting planner want to bring me back again. To have the meeting planner's associates and managers commend him/her for their choice of speaker.

the audience:

Cause them to have a lot of fun while learning. Give them steps and strategies necessary to improve both their personal and professional lives. To cause them to say to friends and family members after my presentation, "I heard an unbelievable speaker today!"

my content/topic evolution:

I am constantly learning, growing, evolving, and keeping my programs up-to-date.
